The Department of Health Sciences and Kinesiology in the Waters College of Health Professions invites applications and nominations for the position of Assistant/Associate Professor of Sport Management. This position will be located on the Statesboro campus.

In January 2017, the University System of Georgia Board of Regents voted to consolidate Armstrong State University and Georgia Southern University. The new, 27,000-student university will be named Georgia Southern University with campuses in Savannah, Statesboro, and Hinesville. The expected timeline for the first entering class will be fall 2018. Complete details are available at http://consolidation.georgiasouthern.edu/.

Within this setting, the Department of Health Sciences and Kinesiology is a dynamic and growing unit of over 60 faculty and staff serving over 1,500 majors enrolled in undergraduate and graduate programs in areas that include health education and promotion, exercise science, athletic training/sports medicine, sport psychology, nutrition and food science, health administration, health and physical education, sport management, and coaching education. The department strives to become an elite academic unit and this position would contribute to that goal through the further development of its undergraduate and graduate sport management program.

Position Description: Reporting to the Chair of the Department, the Assistant/Associate Professor of Sport Management position requires teaching, research responsibilities, and service as well as a doctorate degree. The successful candidate will teach undergraduate and graduate courses in Sport Management. Course assignments will depend on individual expertise, but likely openings will be in: Intro to Sport Management, Sport Policy Development, Sport Finance, Sport Economics, Facilities and Event Management, and Sport Law. This faculty member will also provide academic and research advisement to students; promote and sustain interdisciplinary dialogue and service; hold membership in professional associations; and serve on committees and participate in official activities at the departmental, college, and university levels. The position is a 10-month, tenure-track appointment, and the salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Required Qualifications:
- Earned doctorate in Sport Management, Sports Administration, Kinesiology or a closely related area by August 1, 2018
- Commitment to excellence in teaching and learning as evidenced by a presentation with students present during the campus visit
- Promise of productive scholarship/creative activities consistent with the teacher-scholar model
- Commitment to teaching, scholarship, and service that is consistent with the College’s priorities for the Department and the mission of the University
- Ability to contribute to a positive work environment in the Department, College, and University
- Technological literacy and a commitment to integrate technology in teaching and scholarship
- Ability to teach fully online
- Commitment to professional service within the University and beyond
• Ability to work in a diverse academic and professional community
• Must be authorized to work in the United States for the duration of employment without assistance from the institution
• Appointment as associate professor requires a minimum of five years full-time college or university teaching experience at the assistant professor rank in addition to a strong record of research and service with publications and presentations in professional venues.

Preferred Qualifications:
• Minimum of one year of full-time college/university teaching in the Sport Management, or closely related field for Assistant Professor
• Ability to develop sport industry relations, supervise sport management majors club, develop alumni relations

Screening of applications begins January 31, 2018, and continues until the position is filled. The preferred position starting date is August 1, 2018. A complete application consists of a letter addressing the qualifications cited above; a curriculum vitae; and the names, addresses, telephone numbers, and email addresses of at least three professional references. Other documentation may be requested. Only complete applications will be considered. Finalists will be required to submit to a background investigation.
