The Department of Health Sciences and Kinesiology in the Waters College of Health Professions has a visiting instructor of Exercise Science position open for which we seek to make a hire for the 2019-20 academic year. This position will be located on the Statesboro campus, but may require travel to the other campuses. If you know of someone who is interested, please share this position description with them.

At Georgia Southern, limited-term instructors normally teach 15 credit hours per semester, hold regular office hours, and participate in departmental meetings and activities. Collegiality is essential. All limited-term positions are non-tenure track, academic-year (9/10 month) appointments. Appointments are for one year only, although there is the possibility of reappointment should funding permit and based upon satisfactory performance. The second year would be the terminal year, without exceptions. The salary is $50,000 plus benefits. The salary is not negotiable. Moving expenses are not included.

Required Qualifications:
• Earned master’s or higher degree in Exercise Science, or closely related area by August 1, 2019
• Ability to teach exercise science classes, such as: exercise physiology, exercise physiology laboratory, fitness evaluation and exercise prescription, and research methods.
• Must be authorized to work in the United States for the duration of employment without assistance from the institution

Preferred Qualifications:
• Potential for online teaching

Screening of applications begins immediately and continues until the position is filled. The position starting date is August 1, 2019. A complete application consists of a letter addressing the qualifications cited above; a curriculum vitae; and the names, addresses, telephone numbers, and email addresses of at least three professional references. Finalists will be required to submit to a background investigation. Applications and nominations should be sent to:
